

«Ita scriptum inveni.»

Onofrio Panvinio, an Eclectic in Sixteenth-Century Rome »

International Colloquium
Rome, 30-31 October 2023

Each paper is to be focused on the figure of Onofrio Panvinio (1530-68) with reference either to his edited or unedited works, or to other aspects regarding his life. The aim of the Colloquium is to gather recent studies concerning the subject of the conference in order to enable a lively debate amongst researches from different disciplines and to emphasize not only the international scope of Panvinio's importance, but also the various interdisciplinary approaches the Augustinian erudite from Verona himself was practicing during his lifetime.

DISCIPLINES

Archeology, epigraphy, iconography, history, topography, architecture, history of art, Christian literature, liturgy, hagiography, museology and other disciplines without geographic limitations.

PARTICIPATION REQUIREMENTS

The candidate is asked to submit an abstract (300 words ca.) in English, including the respective information regarding affiliation with relevant keywords to colloquio.panvinio@gmail.com by 20 June 2023. It will be possible to deliver the talk, once accepted, in the following languages: English, Italian, French, German and Spanish.

The selected candidates will be notified by 31 July 2023.

PARTICIPATING INSTITUTIONS

Pontificio Istituto di Archeologia Cristiana

Université de Fribourg

Universidad Carlos III de Madrid

Römisches Institut der Görres-Gesellschaft

Archivio della Provincia Agostiniana d'Italia

DATES AND LOCATIONS

The Colloquium will be held between 30 and 31 October 2023 in the Aula Magna at the Pontificio Istituto di Archeologia Cristiana, via Napoleone III, 1 – 00185 Roma.

For further information, please contact:

colloquio.panvinio@gmail.com

Organizers:

Vittoria Artico

Olof Brandt

Chiara Cecalupo

Ignacio García Lascurain Bernstorff

Filip Malesevic

P. Josef Sciberras OSA